WROE-BRITTAIN.

Miss Katherine Wroe, of this city, and Mr. Carl C. Brittain, of Fulton, Ky., were quietly married Saturday morning in Owensboro by the Rev. Mr. Bomar, pastor of the First Baptist church of that city. The ceremony took place at the parsonage.

Miss Wroe is the third daughter of Judge Wroe and Mrs. Wroe and an accomplished young lady. Mr. Brittain formerly held a position here with the L. H. & St. L. R. R. and is well known.

The marriage came as a surprise to the many friends of the young couple here, as they left on the six o'clock train for Owensboro early Saturday morning. The news of their marriage did not become known here until late in the day.

Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Brittain left for their new home at Mounds, Ill.

HOME WEDDING.

Miss Louise Clark Moorman and Mr. Walter Robert Moorman, Jr., Married This Afternoon at Home of Bride's Parents Near Glen Dean.

One of the prettiest home weddings of the summer is that of Miss Louise Clark Moorman and Walter Robert Moorman, Jr., whose marriage will take place this afternoon at 3 o'clock. The wedding will be at the beautiful country home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Moorman, near Glen Dean, and witnessed by a number of friends and relatives of the contracting parties.

The ceremony will be pronounced on the lawn in front of a bank of ferns and flowers. Miss Mildred D. Moorman, sister of the bride, will render the solo, "Because." Then to the gentle strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march, played by Mrs. C. V. Robertson, of Hardinsburg, the bridal party will enter the lawn.

Misses Mildred Moorman Murray and Pauline Douglas Moorman, both dressed in white organdie dresses, carrying French bouquets, will be the flower girls. Preceding the bride and groom Miss Betsy Moorman, youngest sister of the bride, will enter, attired in white organdie carrying a bouquet of pink sweet peas.

The bride and groom will walk down the ribbon aisle, together, followed by the Rev. Kasey, of Louisville, who will pronounce the solemn rites, using the ring ceremony.

The bride will wear an elegant white lace gown, her veil being of tulle and adjusted with orange blossoms. Her bouquet is of brides' roses, lilies of the valley and orchids.

Immediately after the ceremony the couple will leave on the 4:20 train for a short bridal trip.

Miss Moorman is the third daughter of the Hon. D. C. Moorman and Mrs. Moorman, and a very attractive and popular young lady. Mr. Moorman is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Moorman, of Glen Dean, and is a prosperous young farmer.

The World's Biggest Business.

From the World Outlook we clip the following forceful presentation of a subject in which all who love Jesus Christ, the Saviour of men, are supposed to be deeply interested:

"Bigger than oil, bigger than steel, bigger than other business in the business of Christianizing the world. Indomitable perseverance has been an element in this as in every great enterprise. Throughout the world it took ninety years to win the first million converts; twenty-three years to win the second million. Converts are now being added at the rate of a million in twelve years. An army of nearly fifty thousand missionaries is employed. The annual amount spent by all the mission boards, including Protestant, Catholic, and private agencies, is not far from one hundred million dollars. The cost of administration in all this vast enterprise is only about eight percent. Some boards do even better. Besides the making of converts, foreign missions maintain thirty thousand schools, have one and a half million students under instruction at the present time, give four million medical treatments a year. But the most gigantic figures represent not what Christendom is doing, but what it is not doing. The world is large. In spite of the tremendous progress of the mission movement, there are still three times as many non-Christians as Christians. More than half the world is uneducated. We have in North America an average of one doctor for every six hundred and twenty-five people. In China the proportion is one to about two million five hundred thousand.
